Highlights

The convention was held in conjunction with the American String Teachers Association and the International Association of Jazz Educators.

Noted composer, Douglas Akey, presented two clinics at the convention: The first session involved tuning for the young ensemble and the second dealt with literature for the young band. Rich Clendenin, nationally known trumpet player/instructor, was featured in a clinic entitled “Corned versus Trumpet”.

John Williams had his Golden Eagle Concert Band perform. They are a community band from the Denver metropolitan area. Many CBA members from throughout Colorado presented at the 1998 Convention.

For a third year attendees performed a concert at Elitch Gardens. The band played marches under the baton of Dr. J.L. Gerardi. A family picnic and softball game was scheduled at Northglenn Park on the first evening of the convention.
